

Quality Policy

It is the policy of Red7Marine to provide its Clients with products and services which are at all times, fit for their intended purpose and fulfil contractual obligations. In order to meet these requirements, the Company has developed a documented Quality Management System which forms part of the Integrated Management System that has been implemented throughout its operation and is firmly adhered to where product quality may be affected.

As a marine Contractor on our Clients sites and Principal Contractor on our own sites of operations undertaking marine construction and marine support; all of our operations shall be conducted in full compliance with our Quality Management Systems to ensure compliance with ISO 9001: 2015 standards, and adherence to industrial legislation.

The existence of the Quality Management System is the direct responsibility of the Managing Director, who has appointed a Head of QHSE and Business Improvement to implement and maintain the system in accordance with the requirements of the quality standard ISO 9001: 2015.

Customer satisfaction is essential to the growth of our business. Our performance will be continuously reviewed and where required improved to ensure customer satisfaction is achieved at all times. Red7Marine are committed to continuous improvement through setting quality objectives.

Considerations of safety are an essential part of the Company's operations. Fitness for purpose shall at all times include fitness for safe operation of a product or safe conduct of a service. The Quality, Health & Safety, and Environmental policies should be considered as three interactive parts of a single corporate policy.

An important objective of the Company's personnel policy is that staff shall be encouraged to be innovative and that decisions shall be taken at the lowest appropriate level of management. It is a declared element of the quality policy that the Quality Management System derived from it shall be compatible with this objective.

All personnel shall be made aware of this policy and the requirement to work strictly within the defined parameters of the Quality Management System.
